Yep! The protective tariff will be revised by its friends for its friends.

We wish that New York court would hurry up and get through with Nan Patterson's acquittal.

"Marriage is blissful," said a minister in denouncing divorce. Who said it was better than that?

To stop over or not to stop over! That is the question, if President Roosevelt accepts those invitations to visit some of our Southern cities.

A pipe line to convey oil is being built through Kentucky. The Kentuckians ought to know its location so they won't mistake it for a well known worm.

Some papers take Governor Vardaman's stunts seriously. What are we paying our money for, if the end men are not to be allowed to make a pass at the interlocutor?

A New York man kidnapped another man's wife and sold her back to her husband for a ransom of five dollars. That woman will never forgive the kidnapper for putting upon her a price less than a two-footer hat on a bargain day.

President Roosevelt, in order to keep down his rotundity, is to resume boxing practice with Professor Mike Donovan. Mike will please receive no insinuations on the sly from Governor Vardeman as to how to take the President down a button hole or two.

The Columbia Evening Record exposes the absurdity of the administration's proposition to raid newspaper shops for publishing guessing contests. "Wall street gamblers," says the Record, "will continue to have the use of the mails, however, to trap the unwary." That's the most unkindest cut of all.

The South is quick to take offence at criticism in the Northern press, yet the Southern papers are about as offensively critical as any of the ink slingers. The fact is the whole Yankee nation is of the opinion that it knows it all and is bound to tell the world how things should be done.

Quite a lot of papers are ridiculing the apparent overdoing of preparations to safeguard the President during his trip to and from St. Louis. If ample preparations had not been made and the slightest thing had happened to the President, the neglect would have been denounced as criminal. Anything to get in the game with a kick.

Our bright and newsy contemporary the Raleigh Morning Post celebrated its seventh anniversary yesterday. The youngster finds itself in strenuous form, and flushed with well merited success. Editor Phillips is doing some mighty clever work in his department, the home news feature is in capable hands, and the paper shows up daily with unexceptionally attractive State and telegraphic news. The paper is neat and newsy and bright, and admirably fills its sphere in North Carolina journalism. Continued success to the Post.

LOCAL DOTS.

— During the month just ended the police made 134 arrests, 45 defendants being white, 78 colored and one Japanese.

— Mrs. Florence Russ, 22 years of age, died yesterday at her home, No. 17 Wooster street. The remains were sent to Freeman, N. C., for interment.

— John Hayes, a young white man employed on the government steamer under Capt. Kermon, was sent out to the smallpox detention house yesterday.

— Southport Standard: "The prospects bid fair this Winter for wild ducks. On the river between here and Wilmington there are regular rafts of them."

— Mr. R. R. Stone is confined to his bed with a badly mashed foot, the result of a slight accident yesterday while attending to the unloading of some heavy pieces of rock from a freight car.

— When Julius Cowan, colored, started to work at the compress yesterday at noon, the gateman, whose duty it is to search everybody for matches before they enter the building, found a razor on the negro's person. The gateman telephoned the police station and Cowan was locked up for trial in court to day.

THREE FINED FOR FIGHTING.

Delgado Boys Paid for Some Fun at the Carnival Grounds—Mayor's Matinee.

In the Mayor's court yesterday N. M. Butler, John Butler and J. L. Bale, young white men of Delgado, were arraigned upon a charge of setting upon some negroes and beating them at the carnival grounds Wednesday night. The evidence of the officers who made the arrests showed that the white men had been run away from the rear of one of the tents where they had been trying to look under the flaps at the "Old Plantation" show. They went away but began throwing stones at a Naval Reserve who had been placed there on guard. The negroes saw them throwing and expressed the opinion that such conduct was wrong. The white men turned on the negroes and one or more of them, who were unable to get out of the way, were used up pretty badly. Officers H. P. Merritt and W. F. Craig made the arrest with difficulty, the first named having some of the buttons jerked off his uniform. Bale was let off by the Mayor Pro Tem. with $5 and costs, his offence being less aggravated; John Butler was fined $10 and costs and N. M. Butler was fined $15 and costs.

Frank Fisher, colored, for the larceny of a razor, was bound over to Superior Court under $35 bond. Emanuel Nichols, colored, was fined $5 and costs for disorderly conduct.

Funeral of Mr. Litgen.

The furneral of the late Richard G. Litgen was conducted at ten o'clock yesterday morning from St. Thomas' Catholic Church. Many friends of the deceased gentlemen were present to pay a last tribute of respect to his memory. The interment was in Oakdale Cemetery. The following were pallbearers: Honorary, Drs. Thos. Burbank and Frank H. Russell, Messrs. N. B. Rankin and W. Howe; Active, Messrs. W. L. Burkhimer, Henry Habenicht, Jas. Holton, Wm. Huhn, Wm. Stees and E. P. Cunningham. The burial was with the honors of the Improved Order of Red Men, of which there were a large number in attendance. Mr. Jas. H. Cowan took the part of Prophet at the service; Mr. F. K. J. Fuchs was Sachem while the release of a snow white bird, a beautiful part of the ceremony, was conducted by Chief of Records W. L. Burkheimer.

Horse Sale Yesterday.

The auction sale of horses at Schloss' stables, on Princess street, attracted a large crowd yesterday. The ponies brought all the way from $23 to $60. Many of them were unbroken and gave their new owners no end of trouble as the animals were taken from the drove. One of the wildest of the wild ponies was bought by a man in Brunswick. When the animal was gotten on the ferry boat at Market street dock, he developed an amphibious nature and plunged overboard. He was finally pulled ashore by some one, and when he went aboard the flat again he was content and remained perfectly quiet.

Cotton Receipts.

The receipts of cotton at the port of Wilmington for the month just ended were 72,304 bales against 79,226 during November last year. The receipts since Sept. 1st, have been 296,454 against 241,928 during a corresponding period in 1903. The total exports for the crop year up to this time have been 308,840 bales. The local market yesterday was nominal with no quotations.

Ill Treated a Brute.

Joe Howard, colored, was arrested by Police Sergeant G. H. Ward at Eighth and Brunswick streets yesterday afternoon, charged with cruelty to animals. The negro was beating an old mule, which was down and unable to get up. He will be given trial in the Mayor's court today at noon.

Second Day's Session of North Carolina Conference at Henderson Yesterday.

PRESIDING ELDERS REPORT.

Progress in All Districts—Bishop Urges Better Salaries for Pastors in View of the Increased Cost of Living. Mission Board—Notes.

[Special Star Telegram.]

HENDERSON, N. C., Dec. 1.—The North Carolina Conference opened this morning with religious exercises by Dr. E. A. Yates, after which the secretary read the journal of yesterday, which was approved.

The free use of the long distance lines of the Southern Bell Telephone Co. was extended to members of the Conference by the President. Lay delegates were recognized as follows: W. R. Wrenn and B. Cobb, of Fayetteville district; W. B. Cooper, of Wilmington; M. Bolton of Warrenton, and L. L. Smith of Elizabeth City.

A communication from the Board of Church Extension was read and referred to committee. Rev. J. M. Rhodes, president of Littleton Female College, was recognized by Bishop Candler and he read the report of his work at that institution, which was referred to the Board of Education.

A communication from the convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of North Carolina relative to the lax divorce laws of the State was read and referred to the committee appointed yesterday.

Bishop Candler called Question 20: "Are all the preachers blameless in their lives and official character?" Presiding Elder W. H. Moore, of Raleigh, passed the examination and reported that progress had been made during the year in his district. Good revivals had been held, as a result of which there had been a net gain of 300 members. Salaries and collections were nearly full on all the charges. In this connection Bishop Candler took occasion to speak of the small salaries paid by the N. C. Conference. Living expenses have increased 33⅓ per cent., he said, but many pastors are still living on the same salaries paid them when prices were low. The presiding elders and laymen were exhorted to see that the pastors of their churches be paid more remunerative salaries.

Presiding Elder J. T. Gibbs, of the Durham district, reported good revivals and a net increase of nearly 300 members; salaries paid in full; assessment for conference collections overpaid; large amount of money expended for church and parsonage improvement.

Presiding Elder J. B. Hurley reported good revivals; 1,000 confessions; net increase of members about 800; fourteen charges paid in full; entire assessment for home and foreign missions paid in full over the district.

Presiding Elder J. N. Cole, of Rockingham, reported that he found his district in good condition upon assuming charge last year and the ministry during the present year had been blessed; conversions numbered between 800 and 900; salaries increased at several points; two new churches and one new parsonage built; entire assessment for conference paid and collections settled in full; district parsonage debt paid; ten charges increased pastor's salary.

Revs. R. W. Townsend, C. R. Taylor, Samuel Leffers and J. J. Barker passed the examination of character and each case referred to the Committee on Supernumerary Relation.

Rev. C. W. Smith, of Whiteville, who has been for a number of years on the supernumerary list, reported that he was again ready for work this year. Revs. M. C. Thomas, W. S. Davis, F. E. Dixon, J. C. Crisp, T. J. Gattis, J. A. Lee, J. E. Bristow, J. E. Thompson and M. D. Hix passed the character examination and were referred to the Committee on Conference Relations for superannuation.

Revs. J. J. Rann, S. B. Turrentine, D. D., and A. R. Surratt, of the Western N. C. Conference, were introduced by the Bishop.

Question 1: "Who are admitted on trial?" was called and the names of William Thomas Usry, of Fayetteville district, Benj. E. Stanfield, of Washington; Robert D. Daniels, of Warrenton, Enoch M. Hoyle, of Durham, and Andrew W. Price, of Elizabeth City, were presented.

Rev. R. B. John, presiding elder of the Wilmington district, reported good revivals and great interest. There were between 400 and 500 additions to the church during the year; six new houses of worship built; mission assessments paid in full; number of increases in pastors' salaries; district parsonage debt paid in full.

Presiding Elder F. D. Swindell, of Newbern, reported that he was finishing up his fourth year as presiding elder and eight years in all as a resident of the district. A new church is now being built in Newbern at a cost of $40,000; many new churches and one parsonage were built in the county; good revivals; mission assessment paid in full and increases on other collections.

Rev. J. D. Bundy, of the Washington district, reported good revivals; 400 new members; one new church finished; two dedicated during the year and a parsonage built; progress on most of the charges.

Rev. G. F. Smith, of the Warrenton district, reported net gain of 350 members, 18 or 20 charges paid pastor's salary in full; four new churches, and 10 repaired; 300 new subscribers to the Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Rev. J. E. Underwood, P. E. reported best year of three on his district, 734 additions to the church; good material advancement.

Dr. W. C. Lambuth, senior member the Board of Missions, gave some facts and figures in his address which may be of general interest.

The general board last year raised for Foreign Missions, $389,000: Women's board, $180,000. General board for Home Missions, $269,000; for church extension, $130 000. Total, $918,000. The board during this quadrennium proposes to increase this amount to a million.

Nine Annual Conferences last year paid the entire assessment for Foreign Missions; 2,750 pastoral charges paid in full on this claim.

An important step taken by the board of Foreign Missions is to establish in connection with Vanderbilt University, a Missionary Training school for Home and Foreign Missionaries, the month of January to be given to the training of foreign missionaries and February to Home Missions. This step is in advance of any other denomination. The cost of attendance upon this school has been reduced to a minimum.

BOARD OF HEALTH MEETING.

Smallpox and Diphtheria Discussed—Report of Superintendent for November.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Health was held yesterday afternoon, but no business of public importance was transacted. Those present were Mayor Pro Tem. W. H. Yopp, Dr. C. T. Harper and Mr. M. W. Jacobi. There was a general discussion of the smallpox and diphtheria situation and the opinion seemed to prevail that everything possible was being done by the health authorities.

The monthly report of Dr. C. T. Harper, city superintendent of health, which was read at the meeting, showed that during the month there were 16 quarantines for diphtheria, one for scarlatina and four for smallpox. The deaths were 15 whites and 34 colored: total, 49. Births, 17 whites and 25 colored; total, 42. The carts removed 1,144 loads of trash, 675 lime and acid orders were issued in the sanitary department, 15 fumigations and 4,496 inspections were made by the health officers.

NAVAL RESERVES' FAIR.

Interesting and Attendance Increasing. Added Attractions Balance of Week.

The Naval Reserves Carnival will continue through next week. Interest in the event is increasing and the jolly sailors may be sure of a success before the affair is finally over. Last night the crowds were large and good natured. Showers of confetti afforded merriment for the young people, while the more sedate patronized the attractions very largely. "The Passion Play" will be put on to-day as an added attraction. There will also be a free exhibition by Prof. Murray in the nature of a "Slide For Life" at 3 and 10 P. M. Next week the high dive will be put on as a free exhibition.

HARBOR MASTER'S REPORT.

Twenty-five Vessels Arrived During November With Tonnage of 32,581.

The monthly report of Capt. Edgar D. Williams, harbor master of the port of Wilmington, shows arrivals of 16 American and nine foreign vessels of 90 tons and over during November. The comparison with November last year is very favorable indeed. The total number of vessels during the past month was 25 and their combined tonnage, 32,581. The 16 American vessels consisted of nine steamers, 11,512 tons; one barge, 3,044 tons, and six schooners, 3,064 tons. Total tonnage, 17,620. The foreign vessels were seven steamers, 12,384 tons; one barque, 1,871 tons, and one schooner, 256 tons. Total tonnage, 14,961.

EDUCATORS PRAISE AYCOCK.

State Association Adjourned at Raleigh. Board of Elections.

[Special Star Telegram.]

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 1.—The State Association of County Superintendents of the Public Schools before adjourning to-night adopted ringing resolutions expressing gratitude to Governor Aycock for his leadership in the educational campaign that characterized his administration now drawing to close and pledging him a determined effort for a continuance of the work. The Association declined by a unanimous vote to take any action as to endorsement or condemnation of compulsory education, the opinion being as expressed by the State Superintendent, that this is a matter to be worked out locally by each district or in the county. A uniform course of studies from first to seventhe grades was adopted for use in all public schools.

The State's Board of Election began to-day canvassing the election returns and expects to complete the vote on State affairs tomorrow night. It will require until Monday or longer to canvass all the returns. Wilson G. Lamb is chairman.

Moving Pictures Again.

The marvellous success attending Archie L. Shepard's Moving Picture Show has induced the management to bring the original Eastern company to follow in its wake. That it will repeat its former triumphs is a foregone conclusion. It is the show par excellence in high class animated pictures. This attraction will be at the Academy next Thursday night and afternoon.

— Among yesterday's arrivals was Mr. G. W. Price, agent of the A. C. L. at Goldsboro.

BAZAAR A SUCCESS.

Opening Last Night Exceeded the Most Sanguine Expectations of Its Managers.

OVER 400 PAID ADMISSIONS.

Assembling of "Congress of Nations" at Y. M. C. A. a Brilliant Affair—Music and Refreshments—Georgeous Decorations, Etc.—Notes.

The "Congress of Nations" by the ladies of the Y. M. C. A. Auxiliary had a magnificent opening last evening, exceeding even the most sanguine expectations of its promoters. There were over 400 paid admissions to the fair, and from an artistic standpoint nothing of like character in Wilmington before has eclipsed it. The scene, of course, is the spacious building of the Young Men's Christian Association. A brief description of the gorgeous booths, the characteristic setting of the country villas and the landscapes presented to view in all that galaxy of beauty was given in these columns yesterday. The efforts of the ladies to give the public something brilliant, something elaborate, reached a glorious fruition in the opening last night and the success, without a doubt, will repeat itself to day and this evening.

The public has a general idea of the plan of the bazaar but to be appreciated, it must be seen. The opening last night was featured by the "assembling of Congress" under the direction of Mrs. E. L. Prince. Each of the nations represented by characteristic booths, previously described in these columns, sent delegates to this great "Congress of Nations," which was held on the rear centre platform representing America. The countries, represented by beautiful young ladies in native costume of the nations which they chose to represent, were welcomed upon the platform by "Martha Washington," impersonated by Mrs. R. B. John; Mr. Howard McClintock, representing George Washington, both in Colonial costume, and Uncle Sam, cleverly "taken off" by Mr. Horace Carpenter. The assembling was to tuneful music by Hollowbush's Academy Orchestra and following a few preliminaries, "America" was sung with much enthusiasm. Following this there was a select programme of music, including a solo by Mr. Greene Fearley and a selection by a quartette composed of Miss Maude Bulluck, Mrs. F. A. Muse, Mr. Alex. Holden and Capt. John VanB. Metts. Miss Chasten presided gracefully at the piano. The orchestra played at intervals during the evening. "Congress" having adjourned, the representatives of the various nations returned to their respective booths, where refreshments were served and fancy goods were sold. A list of those several departments was printed yesterday and all enjoyed a large patronage during the evening.

To day the bazaar will continue from early morning, closing late to-night. There will be an entirely new programme of music, including the orchestra. Those who desire to have a lunch at the building to-day will find a feast of tempting viands in the "German Village." The prices are reasonable and the menu excellent.

Everybody in Wilmington should attend the bazaar before it is over.

QUINCY ADAMS SAWYER.

Next Big Attraction at the Academy of Music Tuesday Evening.

"Quincy Adams Sawyer," the dramatization of Charles Felton Pidgin's famous New England novel of the same name, is one of the very few notable instances where book plays have been successful. The temptation to put on the stage the dramatization of a successful and widely read novel is great. There is always the advantage that the name of the play has already had so much publicity through the sales of the novel, but in about nine of ten cases the book play is a failure. In this instance the majority of people declare that they like "Quincy Adams Sawyer" as a play even better than they did the book. The permanent success of this latest of rural dramas has been assured by the unprecedented business the play has had during its New York run at the Academy of Music in New York City. The engagement here will be for one night only, next Tuesday night at the Academy.

BAPTIST STATE CONVENTION.

Annual Session at Elizabeth City Next Wednesday—Reduced Railroad Rates.

The 75th annual session of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina is to convene in Elizabeth City on next Wednesday, December 7th, at 7:30 P. M. Reduced railroad rates have been secured for delegates and visitors, from all the railroads and steamboat lines making into that city, and those intending to go to the Convention can ascertain from their local agent all necessary information. The usual rate of one-third of the first-class limited fare plus 25 cents, has been granted. The tickets to be used are on the certificate plan and must be signed by the Secretary of the Convention, at Elizabeth City before returning, and also the railroad agent at that place. The train on the Suffolk and Carolina Railroad, running from Suffolk to Elizabeth City, will wait for arrival of connecting trains Wednesday afternoon. It is supposed that a greater number of delegates and visitors will go by this route on the day above mentioned.

MARRIAGE AT MAXTON.

Popular Young People of Robeson Town Plighted Their Troth on Wednesday.

[Special Star Correspondence.]

MAXTON, N. C., Dec. 1.—An event of much interest here was the marriage on Wednesday, of Mr. Rufus M. Williams and Miss Annie Lane McRae. As is usual in smaller towns, where everyone has a personal acquaintance with and an interest in the contracting parties, a spirit of gladness and human sympathy pervaded the place, and amiable smiles lit the faces of folks as they discussed the wedding, their thoughts no doubt reverting, some to the past, others to the future.

The plan and arrangement of this wedding as a whole was richly conceived—opulence, excellent taste, harmony and proportion being the predominating features in a comprehensive scheme, every detail of which was successful and pleasing. It was a "Church Wedding," with all that implies—a large gathering of spectators, numbers of friends and relatives, a goodly sprinkling of youth's comrades, much dress, many carriages, the stately wedding march, a brief solemn interval when a hush comes over all, a thrill of excitement, and the whistle of the express which is to transport into unknown but certain Elysium. Last, but not least, the after-math, an abundance of cake to be sent out to the "Friends of the family." The vows were solemnized in the Presbyterian Church at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, the Rev. Halbert C. Hill, officiating.

A novel and pleasing design was employed in the decoration of the church—two arches, draped in white and entwined with ivy, on either aisle down which the bridal party came, in the rear of the chancel three arches, a large center one with a smaller one on either side, similarly decorated, against an illuminated background of white skirted with rows of evergreens; flowers, ivy and ribbon interwoven everywhere in a pretty profusion, a myriad of incandescent bulbs overhead casting their white beams of light down upon a throng of faces which reflected the suppressed animation incident to the splendid occasion.

Seven couples of young ladies and gentlemen were in waiting upon the principals, and at the appointed hour, in unison with Mendelssohn's classic, rendered by Mrs. Roberson, of Fayetteville, at suitable intervals they filed down the long aisle, gentlemen on the right, ladies on the left aisle, and vice versa, passed in front of the altar and were aligned on either side in a crescent shaped figure. The couples were: Miss Mamie Currie with Dr. J. D. Croom, Jr.; Miss Sallie McLean with Mr. C. P. Exum; Miss Margaret McKinnon with Mr. M. W. Cole; Miss Bessie Williams, sister of the groom, with Mr. J. D. McLean; Miss Bethea, of Dillon, S. C., with Mr. A. M. McNair; Miss Bessie McLean with Mr. L. W. McKinnon. In the wake of two little cherubs carrying flowers, came Dr. L. R. Kirkpatrick, best man, escorting the groom. The maid of honor was Miss Mary Fuller Roberson, of Fayetteville, and she entered and gave away the bride.

White organdie over taffeta silk with pink girdles was worn by the bridesmaids, and each carried a handful of pink carnations. Pink was the color of the maid of honor. The bride's gown was white duchesse satin over white taffeta silk.

In view of the early departure of the bride and groom after the wedding, an ante-nuptial reception was given at the home of the bride's parents on Tuesday evening. The bridal party and a lot of friends attended and a fine supper was served.

Husband and wife, both of this place, are well known in North Carolina, and congratulations and good wishes galore are theirs. Mr. Williams is a young man of recognized business ability and bids fair to do well. She has always been a very popular young lady and is well known for her musical talent. Her exceptionally fine voice is the delight of her friends.

KILLED BY HIS 'PHONE.

Turned an Electric Light With the Receiver in His Hand.

BROCTON, MASS., Nov. 30.—Harry B. Masters, a former alderman of this city and agent for the Standard Oil Company in southeastern Massachusetts, was electrocuted in his office to-night when turning on an incandescent light. Mr. Masters sat down at his desk to telephone to his daughter that he would not be home until late, and when he turned the button on the lamp he had the desk 'phone in his hand. There was a flash of light and Mr. Masters fell over lifeless. Carl Merrill, his clerk, was seriously burned in trying to drag Mr. Masters away from the 'phone.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

FRIDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 2.

NORTH CAROLINA AGAINST KENTUCKY.

Heretofore we have thrown out a few insinuations against Kentucky for being the habitat of the still worm, but it appears that we are living in a glass house. Tom Pence, Washington correspondent of the Raleigh Post, opens our eyes to the fact that North Carolina not long ago wore the belt for grain distilleries and is now at the head of the list as to the number of brandy-making establishments. Here is what he writes from Washington where he has been looking into the statistics in the internal revenue department:

Until the Watts law went into effect North Carolina led every State in the Union in the number of grain distilleries operated. A year later the State dropped to rank of fourth, being outstripped by Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Virginia, and there has been a falling off in the number of grain distilleries in operation from 392 to 78. As the result of the prohibition agitation in the State the number of licensed retail liquor dealers decreased last year from 1,185 to 817. The wholesale liquor dealers experienced little change, the number being 52 last year as compared with 59 two years ago.

The exact influence of the Watts law with respect to the distilling interests in the State was made known today for the first time, when the annual report of the commissioner of internal revenue was made public showing the decrease in the operation of distilleries since the Watts law went into effect in July, 1903. As the report of the commissioner is for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1904, it gives accurately the effect of the operation of the Watts law during its initial year.

While North Carolina takes a back seat in the grain distilling business, she still holds undisputed sway as leader in the number of fruit distilleries operated. The number of this class of distilleries has shown an increase as the result of the operation of the Wats law. Before the Watts law went into operation there were 442 of these institutions at work, while last year the number increased to 462.

The Watts law has jolted the grain industry as the result of its activity. Before it went into effect there was consumed in the State for distilling purposes 282,714 bushels of grain, and last year the consumption was only 145,436. The decrease in the consumption of corn was greatest, being more than 113,000 bushels.

But after all, North Carolina with her large number of fruit distilling institutions, leads all her sisters in the total number of sow-paw making establishments. Counting both fruit and grain the state is accredited with a total of 540, and her nearest rival is Virginia, which has 466 such institutions. North Carolina produces a total of 54,963 gallons of fruit brandy, nearly all of which is apple.

Interesting features of the commission's report are that North Carolina ranked second as a producer of chewing and smoking tobacco, being surpassed only by Missouri, and fourth as producer of cigarettes. She is eleventh in rank among the states in the point of revenue producers The total collections in the state last year were $4,667,182

There were 252 illicit distilleries in the state and Georgia alone showed a greater number of seizures. There are 94 tobacco factories in the states and they consumed over 74,000,000 pounds, a record surpassed only by Missiouri. The state led as a producer of smoking tobacco, producing nearly twice as much as any other state.

The receipts of the government from internal revenue amounted to $232,904,004 during the last fiscal year, but there has been a slight falling off in current income from this source during the last few months and the commissioner of internal revenue estimates that the receipts for the year ending June 30 next will reach $230,000,000. The report says that the cost of collection last year was only 1.98 per cent. of the total amount collected. This is lower than usual, for example the cost of collection in the next preceding fiscal year was 2.07 per cent., and for the whole time since the organization of the internal revenue bureau 2.83 per cent.

The three largest revenue producers the last fiscal year, with the amounts collected in each case, were: Distilled spirits, $129,564,242; fermented liquors, $48,208,132, and tobacco, $44,656,808.

As usual, Illinois was the largest contributor of internal revenue taxes to the federal government, the amount collected in that State being $52,462,271. New York was second with $26,375,125; Kentucky fourth with $21,757,733; Ohio fifth with $21,091,416, and Pennsylvania sixth with $18,874,540.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS.

Says the esteemed Charlotte News:

"A little more than one hundred years ago President Jefferson rode up to Washington from his Virginia plantation, and hitching his horse to the fence, walked into the Capitol, whip in hand and mud-be-spattered, to be sworn into the highest office in the gift of the nation."

Yes, but Jefferson was one of the people. He did not dream in the "Simple Life" of those days that there would ever be an open season for chasing or shooting Presidents. He represented a party that "hasn't done a hate" to the people.

Dr. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION FOR WEAK WOMEN.

THE GOSPEL TRUTH.

The Richmond Times-Dispatch, briefly but with absolute correctness, states the Southern attitude at this time. Here it is:

"Those gentlemen up North who think the South is weeping are greatly in error. The South is going right along attending to business just as if there had never been an election. The South knows how to take advantage of a situation, even a pat hand played by the other fellow."

The South neither views the present with alarm or looks with gloom into the future. In the midst of a marvellous educational, industrial and agricultural development we tote our own skillet and hoe our own row just as we did when the times were terribly inauspicious. That little landside on the 8th of November never touched us.

CURRENT COMMENT.

— President Roosevelt is developing a fine brand of humor. He is about to placate the South, his first along that line being to push the confirmation of Dr. Crum as collector of Charleston.—Johnstown (Pa.) Herald.

— Governor-elect Glenn, of North Carolina, says that he expects to attend the next Virginia-Carolina football game with his whole staff. Here's another reason for hoping the game will be played at Norfolk.—Norfolk Landmark.

— To show that it is the proper power to call the Peace Conference, the United States launches a few battleships and cruisers, ships, $4,000,000 worth of submarines to Japan, and Charles Schwab doubles his armor plate and projectile plant. —Baltimore Sun.

— A force bill to take from the South the right to its present representation of 126 members of Congress by reducing the number to correspond with the number of votes is proposed. It will be an unjust act perpetrated by force for political motives by the party that may have the temporary power.—Hornellsville Tribune.

— The attorney general of the United States has given an opinion that guessing contests used by many newspapers and business houses come under the provisions of the lottery law, and all such publications or circulars in reference to such contests cannot be circulated through the mails. Those legitimate businesses which have entered upon such schemes will be allowed a reasonable time to get out of them. It seems to us that this is stretching the lottery law pretty far, and it takes a good deal of fine reasoning and splitting of hairs to make these contests gambling in the usual acceptation of the term. We presume the publication of advance accounts of proposed church fair guessing contests will come under the same ban. Wall street gamblers will continue to have the use of the mails, however, to trap the unwary.—Columbia Record.

A FATHER'S EXPERIENCE.

Trying to Give His Little Girl Cod Liver Oil Says He Had Regular Circus.

An interesting incident was told by a man in Robert R. Bellamy's drug store the other evening.

The man came in and bought a bottle of Vinol, and while waiting for change, engaged the clerk in conversation.

Said he: "We were told to give our little girl cod liver oil. I bought a bottle and took it home. We had a regular circus trying to get the child to take it. Then it did not agree with her at all, the oil upset her stomach. She did not get any better, so I told the doctor how we had failed, and he at once recommended your Vinol, saying that it contained all of the curative, healing and strengthening properties of cod liver oil, and that all children love it.

"I took home a bottle and we began to give it to our child right away. Almost from the first dose we noticed a change, and she has gained flesh, strength and appetite and sleeps well every night.

"I don't believe any one should give a delicate child old-fashioned, nauseating cod liver oil or emulsion when Vinol is so delicious, and it will do so much more good than any other tonic. It is simply a wonderful medicine for weak, puny children, and I am recommending it to my friends."

We guarantee Vinol will make weak, puny children strong, robust and rosy, strengthen and invigorate old people and build up the run down, tired and debilitated as nothing else can. If it fails we willingly return every dollar paid for it. Robert R. Bellamy, Druggist.

— "Yes," said the city editor, with a note of regret in his voice, "I was sorry to discharge Spacer. He was the best fire reporter we had. The trouble came last week. He wrote an obituary of Van Sandt Sapleigh and ended up by saying, 'The loss was fully covered by insurance.'"—Puck.

Revolution Imminent.

A sure sign of approaching revolt and serious trouble in your system is nervousness, sleeplessness or stomach upsets. Electric bitters will quickly dismember the troublesome causes. It never fails to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bowels, stimulate the liver and clarify the blood. Run down systems benefit particularly, and all the usual attending aches vanish under its searching and thorough effectiveness. — At Elm City on Wednesday the plant of the Rockford Manufacturing Company, owned by C. R. Winstead, J. L. Bailey and W. H. Dixon, caught on fire, it is believed, from sparks blown from a fire carelessly left near the boiler, and the saw, boiler sheds, all lumber on hand and the offices and books of the company were destroyed, entailing a loss which is conservatively estimated at $3,000. The firm had no insurance on the plant.

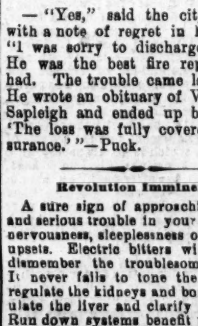
For over a third of a century Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has sold more largely than any other blood purifier or stomach tonic.



Bigger sales to-day than ever before. Is that not the true test? Cures others, why not you? Makes rich red blood. An imitation of nature's method of restoring waste of tissue and impoverishment of the blood and nervous force is used when you take an alterative extract of herbs and roots, without the use of alcohol, like Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This vegetable medicine cures the digestive functions and helps in the assimilation of food, or rather takes from the food just the nutriment the blood requires.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies the blood and entirely eradicates the poisons that breed and feed disease. It thus cures scrofula, eczema, erysipelas, boils, pimples, and other eruptions that mar and scar the skin. Pure blood is essential to good health. The weak, rundown, debilitated condition which so many people experience is commonly the effect of impure blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery not only cleanses the blood of impurities, but it increases the activity of the blood-making glands, and it enriches the body with an abundant supply of pure, rich blood.

No matter how powerful the intellect or the resources of intellectual power, it must be backed up by physical force. Every day the youth or man must manufacture a pint of rich, arterial blood, that is pure, stimulating to the brain, and that can rebuild the tissues that were destroyed in yesterday's work.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure biliousness.

— A correspondent writes from Fayetteville on Wednesday: We are reliably informed to-day that the meeting called here to invite President Roosevelt to stop over on his Southern trip was not to advance certain Republican interests. Otherwise the report, both of the meeting and the general sentiment here, was, in our opinion, correct.

— A disastrous fire broke out about noon on Tuesday at Clinton and at one time it looked as if it would assume the dimensions of a conflagration. Beginning in the storage warehouse of the Carolina Crate Factory, it was communicated by a strong wind to the Sampson Tobacco Warehouse and Prizery, both of which were soon in ruins, together with some $3000 worth of tobacco. Colonel Robertson did not succeed in implicating any of the Statesville boys. He has visited every company and so far has failed to get a single man to "peach" on his comrades. An effort will be made to arbitrate the matter.

— Raleigh News and Observer, Dec. 1st: Propped on a chair in the office of the Chief Executive yesterday was a large, life size portrait of Gov. Aycock, which was painted by Randall to adorn the walls of the Governor's mansion. The portrait is in finish and technique a very fine work of art and on the whole good as a likeness. The face is too weak, however, the cheeks being too full and too girlishly round and the mouth failing to fully express the combination of strength and humor that distinguishes the life of the Governor of the State. The large portrait, hung low against the wall, was startling in its effect upon those who entered the Governor's office yesterday. Many paused to salute it before they spoke to the executive who keeps well hidden from the door behind the high back of his roll-top desk. The criticism of the portrait is not meant as a reflection upon the likeness, but merely by way of saying that one does not come out of four years of being Governor a boy—a condition which the painting strongly suggests.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, December 1.—Considering the extent of the recent decline the weakness of the cotton market today was little short of sensational; trading was again very active and the bears kept the market under pressure from start to finish, with prices finally at about the lowest level of the day. The opening was weak at a decline of twelve to twenty-six points in response to the big decline in the English market, which reported no support whatever and sentiment very bearishly affected by the big estimates from Southern sources, notably one of 11,940,000 bales. Following the call here there was a momentary rally, as a result of active covering by shorts, but the steadier tone lasted only a few minutes and was followed by another break. During the balance of the session the market was very feverish and unsettled and showed a generally declining tendency. The close was nominally steady but at a net decline of thirty-one to thirty-four points. Sales were estimated at 600,000 bales. The decline seemed to result from the disposition to increase crop estimates to around 12,000,000 bales and from the reports of further weakness in the Southern spot situation. Private advices received by local spot people indicated that interior houses were following the decline in futures and offering freely while mills were withdrawing support and buying orders Receipts at the ports to day 35,048 bales against 41,543 last week and 47,963 last year. For the week 380,000 bales against 369,810 last week and 373,850 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans were 5,146 bales against 14,316 last year, and at Houston 10,026 bales against 22,185 last year.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Cotton—The market was quiet at 9 00c; net receipts — bales; gross receipts 1,375 bales; stock — bales.

Spot cotton closed quiet at 30 points decline; middling uplands 9.00; middling gulf 9 35c; sales 13,918 bales.

Futures closed steady at decline; December 8.43, January 9.53, February 8.59, March 8.69, April 8.75, May 8.83, June 8 88, July 8.88, August 8.78.

The vessels wrecked were generally of small tonnage.

The total number of disasters to vessels of all kinds was 770 with a valuation of $6,705,530, of which $5,320,080 was saved and $1,375,450 was lost. The total number of persons involved was 3 328, of whom 34 lost their lives.

The telephone system maintained by the service has proved of great assistance, and much attention has been given to its improvement and extension. The life saving service lines now extend practically unbroken from Maine to the Carolinas and have connection at all important points with the commercial telephone and telegraph lines of the country, and also, where desirable with the light houses and weather bureau offices on the coast.

The life saving stations, the report says, constitute an important factor in the system of coast guard patrol maintained by the Navy Department for protecting the coast in time of war, and it is expected that the wireless telegraph system now being tested by the navy when sufficiently perfected will be extended to the life saving stations; in fact, plans already are being prepared for its installation.

THE STRIKE AT FALL RIVER.

Struggle Between the Manufacturers and Union Operatives is Becoming Acute. Both Sides Determined

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

FALL RIVER, MASS., Dec. 1.—After more than four months the struggle between the local cotton manufacturers and the union operatives who are on a strike is becoming acute. The situation is due mainly to the determined efforts of the manufacturers to shatter the union forces. This is the third week since the mill gates were reopened, after being closed for six teen weeks, in connection with the effort to break the strike. Conflicting claims are made by both sides as to the result of the move, but it is apparent that several thousand non-union hands have gone to work. The union members as a body, however, are still holding out. The manufacturers figure that the strike will gradually wear away as Winter advances.

The unions are receiving assistance from other mill towns, where it is feared that a failure of the Fall River strike would mean a general reduction of wages in the cotton mills of the North. Twenty-two additional collectors have been sent from Fall River this week to the Middle and Western States.

WEST POINT CADETS.

Two Appointments Which It Is Announced the President Will Make.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—To Representative Livingston, of Georgia, and to Colonel J. C. Woodward, president of the Georgia Military Academy, President Roosevelt to-day indicated his intention to appoint Stonewall Jackson Christian, a grandson of General Stonewall Jackson, the Confederate chieftain, as a cadet to the West Point Military Academy. The young man is a student at the Georgia Military Academy. Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, widow of the general, is now a resident of Charlotte, N. C. The President also said he expected to appoint as a West Point cadet a son of Harry Stillwell Edwards, postmaster at Macon, Ga. Mr. Edwards delivered one of the speeches seconding the nomination of the President at the Chicago convention, and is a warm personal friend of Mr. Roosevelt. The appointments will be made as soon as the necessary vacancies take place.

FREIGHT TRAINS IN COLLISION.

Three Men Killed and Property Valued at $40,000 Destroyed.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ONEONTA, N. Y., Dec. 1.—Three men were killed, several others had remarkably narrow escapes from death, and property valued at fully $40,000 was destroyed in a collision between two freight trains on the Susquehanna division of the Delaware and Hudson railroad near here to-day.

A fast freight train, west bound, running at the rate of forty miles an hour, crashed into an extra freight which was being shunted off to a side track. The engine of the fast freight was smashed. Cars were crumbled up and thrown from the tracks and the three firemen were literally ground to pieces. The engineers and the other train men saved themselves by jumping.

JAPANESE SUCCESS AT PORT ARTHUR.

The Storming and Capture of 203 Meter Hill Causes Great Rejoicing in City of Tokio.

BAD BLOW FOR RUSSIANS.

Position Commands the Harbor and If the Japs Can Mount Siege Guns They Can Force Out the Russian Squadron or Destroy It.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

TOKIO, December 1, Noon.—General Nogi's telegram announcing the storming and capture of 203 Meter Hill was received with cheers by the Japanese people. It revives the hope of an early capture of Port Arthur proper. The people have never despaired of the success of the besiegers, but the fortitude of the defenders and the prolongation of the siege which exceeds by months the most liberal preliminary estimate of the time required to accomplish the reduction of this stronghold has been a source of deep regret, combined with the loss of life and disappointments over the fact that the siege has occupied such a large force of men, decreasing Field Marshal Oyama's strength at a time when he needed every available man.

To day was the date set under the conscription act when recruits could join the army. Cheered by the news from General Nogi, thousands of recruits throughout the Empire marched to the barracks and donned uniforms for the first time. Following an honored custom, relatives of recruits, carrying flags and banners, escorted the new soldiers to their barracks. In Tokio to-day there have been scores of little processions escorting detachments of popular conscripts. The number of men who have joined the colors to-day under the conscription act has not been made public.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 1.—The war office here is not yet prepared to accept the report that the Japanese before Port Arthur have taken 203-Meter Hill, but if it is officially confirmed the war office admits that it will be a desperate blow for the gallant defenders of the fortress. The position commands the harbor, and if the Japanese can mount seige guns on its summit they can force out the Russian squadron or destroy it at its anchorage. Those familiar with the supporting plans of the forts think it is by no means certain that even though the Russians are forced to retire from 203-Meter Hill, the Japanese can place in position heavy guns against the fire which the other forts can bring to bear on it. Still the war office officials reluctantly agree that such a breach in the chain renders the position extremely critical, and while the garrison might be able to hold out in the Golden Hill, Tiger's Tail and Liaotie forts for sometime it may mark the beginning of the end. The war office is convinced that with the approach of the Russian Pacific squadron the Japanese considered that the elimination of the Port Arthur squadron as a fighting factor was absolutely vital, thus accounting for the reckless sacrifice of life in order to secure a position directly commanding the harbor.

MUKDEN, December 1.—There was another small skirmish on General Rennekampaff's front on November 30th, but otherwise everything remains quiet here. The weather is warmer and more agreeable.

Skirmishing Near Mukden.

A decidedly hot skirmish took place on November 29th on the Russian right between the villages of Objanlen and Syakochen, the latter place being occupied by Russian troops. Several companies of Japanese, with cavalry, taking advantage of night, tried to cut the Russian communication in this direction, but border scouts enclosed the Japanese on two sides and routed them, capturing ten rifles and several horses. The Russian loss was five killed or wounded. The Japansee loss is supposed to have been much heavier.

Japanese Reports.

TOKIO, Dec. 1.—Manchurian headquarters reports as follows:

"At midnight yesterday a body of the enemy's infantry attacked Machuanantzu mountain. Our non-commissioned officers' picket there repulsed them.

"Japanese scouts dispatched to Liuchangtun encountered and repulsed a body of the enemy and succeeded in discharging the duties required of them.

"A Japanese force in the neighborhood of Haiencheang reports that at about two in the afternoon of November 28th a body of the enemy, consisting of infantry and cavalry, advanced on Siantzialzu heights. We repulsed them at about seven in the evening. The same day in the afternoon the enemy's cavalry and artillery attacked Suchialoutzu. Our fire drove them back.

"The same day our force caused some losses to the enemy's infantry and cavalry appearing north of Chentgulin."

Japanese Casualties.

LONDON, Dec. 2.—The correspondent at Che Foo of the Daily Telegraph says that the attack on 203 Meter Hill resulted in heavy losses to the first division of the Japanese stormers. Simultaneously with this assault, the correspondent says, the men of the Ninth and Eleventh Divisions advanced and menaced the Rihlung and Kekwan forts. It is stated, the correspondent adds, that within the last twenty four hours the Japanese casualties have totalled 15,000 and it is asserted that the attacks have been planned to continue until December 10th, when it is hoped the capture of Port Arthur will be completed.

A Novelist's Characters.

Stevenson said that George Meredith once read him some chapters of "The Egoist" while it was still in manuscript. As the character of the Egoist developed he (Stevenson) grew more and more uncomfortable till at last he interrupted the reading and said, "Now, own up, Meredith, you drew Sir Willoughby from me." Meredith burst into his Homeric laugh and said: "No, no, my dear fellow, he is all of us. But I found him," tapping his own breast, "mainly here."—William Archer's "Real Conversations."

THE SEQUEL TO THE ALVARADO TRAGEDY.

Williams, the Murderer, Barricaded in His Home After Battle With a Posse, Finally Shot and Killed.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

FORT WORTH, TEXAS, Dec. 1.—The sequel to the tragedy that cost the lives of Stephen McKinney, his father and hired man on their farm near Alvarado Tuesday, came to day. J. M. Williams, who fired the fatal shots, barricaded himself in his home and defied the officers. He sent word to his daughter, the widowed bride of the man he had killed, that if she did not come to him he would kill her. In fear and trembling she went to the house. There she found her father armed with a rifle and in a frenzy of rage. The officers were afraid to fire in the house for fear of killing some member of Williams' family whom he held prisoners there to shield him. All night the officers watched from the McKinney home where lay the bodies of the men killed by Williams. Finally, Williams seated himself by a window, his rifle across his knees, and becoming drowsy his head dropped on his breast and he slept. Assuring herself that her father was asleep the widowed bride stole from the house and fled to the home where her husband's body lay. As soon as the posse learned Williams was alone they opened fire on him. He was not slow in returning it. Finally his shots ceased and the sheriff entering the house found Williams lying on the floor with a bullet through his brain.

FOUND DEAD ON BEACH.

Peter Nissen, Who Started Across Lake Michigan in His Boat Called the "Fool Killer No. 3."

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

STEVENSVILLE, MICH., Dec. 1.—Peter Nissen, who started across Lake Michigan in his boat called the "Fool Killer No. 3," was found dead on the beach two miles and a half west of here to-day. Nissen is supposed to have been washed ashore during the night. His "Fool Killer" was about twenty rods down the beach from the body and was considerably damaged. A life preserver and his overcoat were fastened to the basket-shaped car in the boat. The body was brought to Stevensville where it lies in the town hall. The hands and face are frozen and the features reflect his suffering. The clothing on the body was somewhat torn. It is thought that Nissen could not have been dead a great while when the body was found, as rigor mortis had not set in.

Nissen's employer was notified as soon as word was received here that the body had been found and a coroner's jury was impanelled and began an inquest. Men have gone from here to bring in the wrecked "Fool Killer No. 3."

When the wrecked balloon was examined, one of Nissen's business cards was found, on the back of which was a note from the dead adventurer saying an air-hose upon which he depended to renew his supply of air had broken and that he was doomed to die of suffocation.

It is believed here that Nissen was alive when his boat first touched the eastern shore of the lake. There was a smile on the face of the dead navigator.

CASE OF MRS. CHADWICK.

The Cleveland Woman Whose Financial Affairs Have Caused Something of a Sensation.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The announcement that one of the largest creditors of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, the Cleveland woman, whose financial affairs came into prominence in a sensational way a few days ago, had agreed upon a settlement, has given a new phase to this strange case. At the same time the air of mystery which has surrounded every turn thus far made was still present to-day and there was absolutely nothing beyond conjecture to indicate what the outcome would be. That all the legitimate claims against Mrs. Chadwick will be met is the statement made by her attorneys, but at the same time they refuse to say anything as to the source from which the necessary funds will be obtained.

"Mrs. Chadwick has ample money to meet her debts," said Mr. Powers. "She has over $1,000,000 in her own right. It is true she paid over to her husband $3,500,000 some time ago, but she had enough to meet all of her debts, which total about $600,000.

IN HONOR OF BISHOP STRANGE.

Rev. Nathaniel Harding and Wife Entertained Him at Washington, N. C.

WASHINGTON, N. C., Nov. 30.—Rev. Nathaniel Harding and wife were at home last evening at the rectory from eight to eleven in honor of Rt. Rev. Robert Strange, D. D., Bishop coadjutor of the diocese of East Carolina. The reception was given for the purpose of affording the members of St. Peter's parish an opportunity to meet Bishop Strange. A large number were present to greet the Bishop and to wish him God speed in his new work. This is the first time Dr. Strange has visited Washington since his consecration as Bishop and he was welcomed by our people with open hands and hearts. Delightful and delicious refreshments were served and the evening was pronounced one of the very pleasantest of the season.

CLOSING SCENE OF THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Last Day of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, Held in City of St. Louis.

GREAT CROWDS OF PEOPLE.

All the Great Exhibits Closed at 4 O'clock. A General Ejectment Put a Stop to the Threatened Turmoil—The Electric Illumination.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 1.—The Louisiana Purchase Exposition has ended. The stupendous and magnificent exposition whose tendrils of interest have extended into every portion of the civilized world and even into aboriginal recesses, bringing within the gates of St. Louis millions of visitors from throughout the entire world, has run its course and now passes into history as probably having comprised the most representative colection of the resources, industries, art, peoples and customs of the world every assembled. The best order has been maintained throughout; there have been a few fires, but all were of small moment, with the exception of the destruction of the house of "Hoo Hoo" and the partial destruction of the Missouri building recently. The former was immediately rebuilt. No loss of life has occurred during the exposition from accidents. St. Louis has proffered her most gracious hospitality to the world and it has been accepted.

Throngs of visitors have poured in to attend the exposition with the expectation of being pleased and satisfied. They have departed amazed and gratified. The opinion has been expressed at all times, on all sides and without reserve, that the Louisiana Purchase Exposition has been a success.

The man probably most prominently known in connection with the World's Fair is the president, David R. Francis, and it was deemed fitting that the final day should be designated "Francis Day" in his honor.

"This exposition has been the work of my life," said President Francis. "It has consumed my entire time for the past years, but every hour has been a source of pleasure to me. I have exhausted my stock of adjectives in trying to describe this fair. It is as difficult to do it justice as it is to paint the lily."

The closing exercises were held at the base of the Louisiana Purchase Monument, at the plaza of St. Louis, where were held seven months ago the exercises that formally opened the gates to the world. The principal speeches delivered were by Governor Dockery of Missouri and President Francis.

President Francis in his address spoke of the lasting influence of the fair which "marks a new epoch in the intellectual and industrial advancement of the world and the dawn of a new era in the international relations of governments and people." In conclusion he said:

"May this enterprise with which we have been connected for nearly seven years past bring into still closer brotherhood all the nations and all the peoples who have participated in it. May it deepen our patriotism. May it strengthen our love for a benign providence that smiles upon us."

Promptly at 4 o'clock all the great exhibit palaces were closed and visitors were excluded. In the Palace of Agriculture onslaughts were made on some of the exhibits where the settings were composed of straw and fragile material, and for a time general demolition was threatened, but prompt action in effecting a general ejectment put a stop to the threatened turmoil.

As the night drew on throngs concentrated in the main avenues to view for the last time the magnificent electric illumination. One solid stream of humanity swept through the pike from end to end. The spirit of revelry was there. Steadily the white bulbs silhoutted the exhibit palaces against the night, periodically the illumination of the terrace of States, surmounting Festival Hill, changed from white to red, then to green, then back to white. Over on Agricultural Knoll the great floral clock clicked off the minutes of the departing pageant. And in the night rang out the tones of the massive bell as the midnight hour was tolled by the great clock. Instantly a hush seemed to pervade the entire grounds. The glowing electric bulbs slowly began dimming, the pulsations of the great engines that drove the cascades gradually died down, the light faded steadily, diminishing until but a faint glow was perceptible. Suddenly there was darkness, and the Louisiana Purchase Exposition had passed into the chronicles of history.

Age and Respect.

A writer in the Ladies' Field states vigorously that she is not a believer in "respect due to age." "Why respect should be considered the sole prerogative of age is a thing I have never been able to understand. When people have displayed consistent foolishness or vacuity throughout their youth and middle age why should a younger and perhaps wiser generation be expected to look up to them with reverence simply because seventy years have passed over their heads? Respect, surely, should be a question of character and not of age."

Assistance.

"Which of these books or periodicals would you recommend?" asked the woman, with a pleasant smile.

"Well, lady," answered the boy who was attending to the depot news stand, "it depends. If you want genuine first class information I'd sell you dis copy of de Sportin' News, but if you jis' wants somethin' to t'row at de Pullman porter I'd recommend dis substantial bound book by Herbert Spencer."—Washington Star.

His Grievance.

"Uncle Ephraim, you are looking much better. You found something that cured your rheumatism, did you?"

"Yes, suh. But it cured me too quick, suh. I didn't get no use out on dem two dollah an' a half crutches I bought week befo' last."—Chicago Tribune.

Unselfish.

"Sir," she cried when he kissed her, "you forget yourself!"

"Oh, no," he said; "I got half of it myself. The other half was your share."—Philadelphia Ledger.

THE FIRST BANKS.

They Were Established in Italy in the Ninth Century.

The first banks of which we have record were established in Italy so far back as 808 by the Lombard Jews, who had benches, or counters, erected in the market places for the exchange of money and bills. It is from their banco, or bench, that banks have taken their name.

The earliest bankers were also goldsmiths and dealers in precious stones, but with the advance of civilization banking became a distinct business. Merchants had deposited their cash in the mint in the Tower of London until Charles I. laid hands upon the money in 1640. In 1645 traders agreed to lodge their money with the goldsmiths of Lombard street, who had strong chests for their own valuables, and this was the origin of banking in Britain.

The chief banks in Europe were established as follows: Venice, 1171; Genoa, 1345; Hamburg, 1619; Holland, 1635; Bank of England, 1694; Scotland, 1695; Ireland, 1783; France, 1803; United States, 1816.

Handwriting on Iron.

It was an accident that led to the discovery of the method of transferring handwriting to iron. An iron founder while experimenting with molten iron under different conditions accidentally dropped a ticket into a mold. He presently found that the type of the ticket was transferred to the iron in distinct characters. Following up the idea which this fact suggested, he procured a heatproof ink, with which he wrote invertedly on ordinary white paper. This paper was introduced into the mold before the molten iron was poured in. When the mold cooled the paper had been consumed by the heat, but the ink, which had remained intact, had left a clear impression on the iron.

Ungainly, but King of Soaring Birds.

No one would be likely to imagine, for example, that so heavy and, in fact, apparently ungainly a bird as a pelican is a king among soaring birds. After much flopping when these great birds have acquired headway the broad wings are spread, and in majestic circles they mount skyward, with only an occasional flap of the wing, often passing beyond the range of one's vision.—Country Life In America.

SHEPARD'S LUNG FOOD.

CURES Bronchitis

I had been confined to my bed for six months, constantly having hemorrhages of the lungs, when the doctors having given me up to die prescribed SHEPARD'S LUNG FOOD as the last resort. I immediately began to improve, gaining my strength daily, soon my night sweats disappeared and hemorrhages ceased, and in short a time my fever left me, and after the faithful use of this wonderful food for one and a half years, I feel as well as I ever did, and am to-day enjoying the very best of health. Write me. My Postoffice is Malmo, N. C. J. P. MINTZ.
